Unseen Poetry Analysis The Manhunt

This poem is part of the Relationships Poetry Anthology for the Edexcel English Literature GCSE . 'The Manhunt (Laura's Poem)' Context The title of the poem has a double meaning; normally it refers to a police 'manhunt' for a fugitive or criminal, however here it can be interpreted as a literal 'hunt' or 'search' for someone who has become 'lost' as a result of war and conflict.

The Manhunt (Laura's Poem) - Poem Analysis and Notes

The Manhunt is unsurprisingly poignant. It is written in thirteen couplets. There is a vague rhyming pattern to the couplets but this is inconsistent which I think gives the poem a fragmented feel, perhaps this is to represent how their relationship has been? The Manhunt contains a lot of the striking imagery that is a hallmark of Armitage's. The narrator comes across as gentle and supportive.

Complete Analysis of The Manhunt by Simon Armitage

Simon Armitage wrote "The Manhunt" for a 2007 documentary about military service-people who have returned to civilian life, and the lingering, often lifelong effects of sustained exposure to violence. The poem is narrated by one of the documentary's participants, Laura Beddoes.

Analysing Simon Armitage's 'The Manhunt' (Part One ...

In both 'The Manhunt' by Simon Armitage, and 'Quickdraw', by Carol Ann Duffy, the poets use similar language techniques to express the characters' feelings. The main theme in these poems is the breakdown of a couple's relationship and the stresses and emotions this breakdown puts the people under. In 'The Manhunt', Armitage clearly expresses that the couple's relationship has been damaged by the husband's (Eddie's) personal experiences whilst at war.
